

Just when we thought we were on top of life's daily challenges, it changes. So does the evolution of work place Health & Safety. Welcome to the new development of our Besafe newsletter, informing you of new legislations & practices to send you home safely to your family.

Our new development with education and training equips you with knowledge that safety doesn't happen by accident. "Education is the most powerful weapon, which you can use to change the world" - Nelson Mandela

Have a safe month - be careful, be aware but most of all Besafe.

Green Light - Onsite

In a recent court case, a construction company was fined in the Auckland District Court because of a lack of communication and consultation with another construction company working on the same site as required by Sections 43(1) and 2(b) of the Health & Safety at Work Act 2015.

In such events, it is imperative that work site parties cooperate with each other and know what the safety systems are in order to keep all involved at the work site safe. Get the green light from all parties to work cohesively and safely together.

Red Light - Offsite

If your business is important to you, have a read of Section 153 of the Health & Safety at Work Act 2015 and come to terms with authority of the court and Work Safe New Zealand to issue and enforce Adverse Publicity Orders.

Section 144 of the Health & Safety at Work Act 2015 will inform you the rights and impacts of private prosecutions that have the potential to do irrevocable harm to your business.

Laws vs Flaws

We have a lot of feedback from people in company's that participate in courses. As Kiwi's we have a behaviour to wait for something to happen, before we do something about it. Health & Safety should be central to any business, it is a legal and moral responsibility.

The aim of Besafe training is to educate and train people in the laws and procedures of working safely, but more importantly, getting home safe to your family.

Don't work for a living, work on living.

Modern Technology

Technology can be utilised in tools and machines to solve real-world problems. Besafe first aid practices implements quality CPR training with data feedback within a practical learning environment.

Simulation-based education reinforces clinical knowledge improving life decision making skills. This allows Besafe to meet evidence based guidelines and target specific goals to be effective in CPR.

Saying it is one thing, but proving it is another. Check out our online google reviews from customers using our service.
